Jared Cape, Budget Analyst

The resolution does not appear to have any fiscal impact on the state or political subdivisions. The resolution serves as an application for a federal convention of the states for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the U.S. Constitution that would institute term limits for members of Congress. Unlike many other joint resolutions, this resolution does not seek to modify the state constitution and would therefore not be required to appear on the ballot of a specified election for a vote by the public. Consequently, there will be no ballot advertising costs incurred by the state, nor any costs to county boards of elections, to place the measure on the ballot.
