The bill prohibits municipal corporations and charter counties from imposing a curfew, unless the curfew is for people under 18 years old, or in response to a clear and present emergency, as determined by the legislative authority of the municipal corporation or county. The bill appears to have no fiscal effect for most affected political subdivisions because they do not currently impose any such curfews. For a political subdivision that does impose a curfew that is prohibited by the bill, the fiscal effects of eliminating the curfew are uncertain.
