Highlights

- The State Medical Board may realize a minimal increase in administrative costs as a result of allowing podiatrists to administer influenza vaccinations to certain individuals.

Detailed Analysis

The bill allows podiatrists to administer influenza vaccinations to individuals who are seven years of age or older. The State Medical Board may realize an increase in administrative costs if there are any questions or complaints relating to this authorization or if any materials need to be updated as a result. However, it is anticipated that any increase would be minimal.
