SUMMARY

- Grants a township officer, who serves a township with a population between 5,000 and 50,000, the authority to make an arrest for specified traffic offenses on an interstate highway within the township's jurisdiction if certain criteria are met and the township adopts a resolution authorizing such arrests.
- Specifies that the fine collected from a speeding ticket issued by the above township officer on an interstate highway within the township's jurisdiction must be paid to the county treasury for highway maintenance and repair.

DETAILED ANALYSIS

Jurisdiction of township officers on interstate highways

Interstates within a township

The bill alters the arrest authority of a township officer¹ who serves a township with a population² between 5,000 and 50,000 on interstate highways within the officer's territorial jurisdiction.

¹ For purposes of this analysis, a "township officer" means a person who has received a certification from the Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission and who is (1) a member of the police force of a township police district, (2) a member of a joint police district, or (3) a township constable. R.C. 4513.39(B).

² "Population" means the population of the township, according to the most recent federal decennial census, that created the township or joint police district served by the township officer or the population of the township served by the township officer when the officer is a township constable. R.C. 4513.39.

Under the bill, if the township population is between 5,000 and 50,000, the township board of trustees may adopt (and may subsequently rescind) a resolution that authorizes a township officer to make arrests for certain traffic violations (see, Table 2, below) on an interstate highway, provided that:

1. The highway is part of the interstate highway system;
2. The highway is located within the township officer's jurisdiction; and
3. The highway has a permanent access point on and off the highway for the township officer to use that is located within the township officer's jurisdiction and is open to the general public. (An access point that is available as of the bill's effective date remains an available access point for township officer to use even if the territory in which the access point is located is subsequently annexed by a municipal corporation.)³

Currently, a township officer who serves a township with a population of 50,000 or less is prohibited from enforcing certain traffic laws on interstate highways. Table 1 below illustrates the arrest authority for township officers on highways within the township's jurisdiction under current law and as altered by the bill.

Table 1: Township officer arrest authority on highways

Jurisdiction	Arrest authority under current law	Arrest authority under H.B. 539 ⁴
Township with a population of 5,000 or less	State highways and national highway system highways that are not interstate highways (for example, U.S. Route 23)	Same
Township with a population from 5,001 to 50,000	State highways and national highway system highways that are not interstate highways	State highways and national highway system highways, including interstate highways (if there is an appropriate township resolution)
Township with a population exceeding 50,000	State highways and national highway system highways, including interstate highways	Same

Fine distribution

Under the bill, the fine collected from a speeding ticket issued by an authorized township officer on an interstate highway within a township with a population between 5,000 and 50,000 must be paid into the county treasury for highway maintenance and repair. Under current law, a fine collected from a speeding ticket issued on an interstate or national highway by a township officer who serves a township with a population greater than 50,000 is also paid into the county treasury for those purposes.⁵ Also, consistent with current law, all other fines collected by a township officer for the other traffic offenses are split 50% to the township general fund and 50% to the county treasury for highway maintenance and repair.⁶

Background

Township officer jurisdiction

The territorial jurisdiction of a township officer may include the boundaries of the unincorporated area of a township or the boundaries of a township police district or joint police district. A township police district is a district created by a board of township trustees that encompasses all or a portion of the township's unincorporated territory. A joint police district is a district created by the boards of two or more contiguous townships, or the boards of one or more contiguous townships and the legislative authorities of one or more contiguous municipal corporations encompassing all or any part of the townships or municipal corporations, as mutually agreed.⁷

Table 2 below lists the offenses that a township officer may enforce on the specified highways within the township's jurisdiction as explained in Table 1, above. Traffic offenses not listed in the Table have different jurisdiction enforcement authorizations in law.
